Ike May Cancel Soviet Visit in Face of Threat

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower hinted today he might cancel his plans to visit Russia next month if Soviet Premier Khrushchev presses his anti-American campaign too far.

Speaking casually to labor leader George Meany, Eisenhower suddenly clouded his Moscow trip with a big "if."

He did so by saying that he would take a new kind of a boat as a gift to the Soviet Premier "if" he makes the trip.

The President and Meany, head of the AFL-CIO, were standing before a boat at a union-industries exhibit at the time.

Tormenting rains followed the twisters and hampered rescue efforts. Most of the affected areas were without power and communications.

Eleven victims were counted in this college town and officials feared they would find more bodies under the rubble today. The best estimate of injured, taken to hospitals in several towns, was about 75.

The reported toll in the other tornadoes was five dead and 16 injured in the Moffet-Roland area next to the Arkansas border near Fort Smith three killed and six hurt near Keola, two killed and possibly 7 hurt at Sapulpa, two deaths in rural areas near Sallisaw and Checotah, two dead and 12 injured near Bristow, and 13 hurt in the Hoffman community near Henryetta.

The worst storm hit Willburton, a town of 2,000 with another 1,000 students at Eastern A&M Junior College.

Two blocks of the downtown area were wrecked and the rest of the business section was heavily damaged. The City Hall was blown away.

The twister, which struck shortly after 6:30 p.m., bored a path up the center of the town, tearing homes in an area five blocks by three blocks were almost all leveled said Sgt. Henry Mooneyham of the McAlester Police Department. Another 15 blocks of homes were heavily damaged.

The college escaped serious damage.

Biggest town hit by the twister was Sapulpa, an industrial city of 15,000 just southwest of Tulsa.

James C. Hagerty, presidential press secretary, gave that word to reporters.

Later the newsmen were lagging along as Eisenhower and Meany looked over the union-industrial exhibit.

Looking at the boat, the President remarked to his companion: "That reminds me, I'm taking to Premier Khrushchev, if I go to Russia, a new kind of boat with no propeller."

Eisenhower went on to explain that the proposed gift boat is one which propels itself by taking in water and forcing it out in a jet.

Authorities seeking to analyze the purposes behind Khrushchev's moves apparently feel that the Soviet Premier is trying to force Eisenhower into a summit conference trap where he must either make important concessions or take the blame for failure.

Tornadoes Hit State; 1 Dead, Many Hurt, Heavy Property Loss

25 Persons Are Killed in Oklahoma Area

WILBURTON, Okla. (AP)—Ugly black tornadoes killed 25 persons and injured an estimated 200 in slashing attacks on eastern Oklahoma Thursday night.

Tormenting rains followed the twisters and hampered rescue efforts. Most of the affected areas were without power and communications.

Eleven victims were counted in this college town and officials feared they would find more bodies under the rubble today. The best estimate of injured, taken to hospitals in several towns, was about 75.

Margaret Weds the Man of Her Heart

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP)—Princess Margaret married the man of her heart today — commoner Antony Armstrong-Jones, who wooed and won her without crown or coronet.

It was an electronic wedding, with television cameras and spidery microphones dangling above the high altar of Westminster Abbey, but the ceremony was an age-old ritual of the Anglican Church.

The day was golden, the sky blue, the weather warm.

Hundreds of thousands outside the Abbey. In the old streets of London, "gathered shoulder to shoulder in hushed silence as the man-made magic of the loudspeakers brought them the words and music from Westminster.

Inside the Abbey, beneath the stone figures of Shakespeare and Dryden, Glaston and Disraeli, more than 2,000 guests and the royal family gathered in a fairy-tale setting of medieval splendor.

Of the bachelor princess who has lived in the headlines of the world for the last five of her

Firestone III Is a Suicide in Havana

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

HAVANA (AP)—Harvey S. Firestone III, crippled scion of the wealthy rubber family, crawled to the balcony of his 20th floor hotel suite Thursday night and plunged to his death.

Cuban authorities ruled him a suicide. He left no note in his room.

The 30-year-old Firestone, a resident of St. Petersburg, Fla., and a spastic confined to a wheelchair, checked into the Havana Hilton at 1:40 p.m. Thursday with his attendant and a cousin, David M. Firestone, 29, of Sarasota, Fla. They planned to stay three days.

About 7 p.m. Harvey disappeared and his two companions called police.

Clad only in white shorts and a pajama top, his body was found on a third-floor parapet above the main entrance of the 25-story turquoise and white skyscraper in the heart of the Cuban capital's

Prescott Hit, Nobody Hurt, Damage Heavy

MORRILLTO, Ark. (AP)—A tornado battered the small community of Morrillto near Morrilton early today, killing a woman and injuring 24 other residents.

Conway County Sheriff Glen Hawkins said the twister destroyed 12 houses, two churches, the post office and a Negro high school in the central Arkansas town.

State Police reported the same tornado skipped along the bottom lands of the Arkansas River, causing property damage and some injuries in the communities of Portland Bottoms, Guy and Greenbrier.

Searcy, approximately 70 miles east of Morrilton and near the path of the disastrous 1952 tornado, also was struck. A mother and two young daughters were injured when their house collapsed.

Other damage from winds described as tornadic was reported near Little Rock, near Clarksville, 50 miles northwest of Morrilton and at Prescott, in south Arkansas.

The tornadoes struck between 1 and 2 a.m. as a storm belt moved out of eastern Oklahoma into Arkansas.

Oklahoma twisters killed 25 and injured more than 200 during the night — with five deaths and 16 injuries from a tornado which hit the Roland area just across the Oklahoma-Arkansas border near Fort Smith.

Nearly all of Arkansas was under a severe weather alert when the twisters ripped across the state.

Five were injured in the tornado at Portland Bottoms, which wrecked four houses.

Hawkins lead a team of officers and civil defense workers in rescue operations at hard-hit Morrillto. He said the tornado "left just about everything in splinters" in the town of 150.

The woman killed was Ora Oliver, 70, a Negro.

Heavy rains drenched northwest Arkansas during the night, with Fayetteville reporting more than four inches. Half the size of golf balls pelted Fort Smith and broke automobile windows.

State Trooper Ed Ray reported from state Civil Defense headquarters at Conway that he flew over the Arkansas River bottom lands to survey damage in the Morrillto area.

Ray said apparently one tornado was responsible for the swath of destruction. He said the twister traveled from Morrillto to Portland Bottoms, destroyed three houses and some barns at Greenbrier and tore roofs off some houses at Guy.

A howling wind described by residents as a tornado smashed the home of Mrs. Bobbie Fudge at Searcy. She and her daughters, 4 and 7 years old, were hospitalized in good condition. The storm destroyed at least three other houses and knocked down trees and utility lines in what one man called "the worst damage I've ever seen at Searcy."

A hospital at Morrilton, said 6 of the 24 persons injured at Morrillto were in serious condition. The other 18 were treated for minor injuries.

An attendant said some of those released after treatment had no place to go. Civil defense workers arranged for temporary housing.

JESUS OF THE PARABLES
BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.
It is possible to speculate upon what would have been the nature and emphasis of historic Christianity and the impact of Christianity upon modern life if more basic attention had been given to the Parables of Jesus. This, for instance, in contrast with major interest in other parts of the New Testament, especially those which have been the subject of much controversy, and inherently against the very spirit of what Jesus taught in the Parables.

Take the basic matter of the Gospel itself, the Gospel of the Grace of God. Despite the spirit of the Parables concerning the loving and forgiving character of God, many books have been written concerning the nature of the Atonement, man's idea of justice and a presumption by mail about what might well have been left to God in the pardoning of sinners.
A deep error in all this has been the ignoring that St. Paul was attacking the whole conception of sacrifice in appeasement of a supposedly divine being.
Against this whole conception Paul made the plain fact that "God was in Christ, reconciling the world unto Himself, not imputing their trespasses unto them" (II Corinthians 5:10).
How different it would have been if all that Paul wrote had been interpreted in the light of that statement concerning the reconciling God, instead of much that Paul wrote in seeking to show how the conception of a reconciling God, "in Christ," destroyed the conception of a God demanding sacrifice.
An important point is that Paul's teachings concerning the reconciling God is precisely in harmony with the Gospel on God seeking and willing to pardon sinners as set forth by Jesus in the Parables.
It would seem that nothing could be plainer than the Gospel, as set forth in the three Parables recorded in Luke 15. These were the Parables of the Prodigal Son, of the Lost Sheep and the Lost Piece of Silver.
The Parables are equally clear in setting forth the teaching of

Counties Lost in Population
PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—Seven counties in the 6th Congressional District census have lost population since 1950, preliminary census figures show. Tabulations are not complete on the district's other six counties.
Mrs. Sue Carter, district census supervisor, reported the comparative figures yesterday (1950 totals first):
Drew 15,940 and 15,159; Chicot 22,437 and 18,820; Arkansas 25,897 and 23,241; Lonoke 27,783; Dallas 12,596 and 10,449; Lincoln 10,754 and 14,287; Cleveland 8,956 and 6,885.

Woman Arrested in School Burglary
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Lois Martin, 19, has been arrested at Des Arc, Mo., on a federal charge of fleeing to avoid prosecution in Greene County, Ark., for burglary. The FBI announced yesterday. She is charged in connection with a school burglary, the FBI said.
Jesus and the Christian way. The Parable of the Pharisee and the Publican, is perhaps the greatest word over uttered concerning true character and the right attitude in religion.
I think it is the implication of the Parables that right conduct has its source in right character and attitude.
Some of the Parables of conduct come into controversy when regarded in relation to problems of today.
There is the Parable of the Laborers in the Field and the awarding "to every man a penny." It seems far removed from today's labor attitudes and disputes, but I think it must be said that the Parable has a bearing upon the spirit in which even modern problems can be solved.

Redlegs Put Win Streak Together

By ED WILKS Associated Press Sports Writer

Chicagofans' Reds finally have themselves a winning streak, now that reliever Bill Henry is pitching as effectively for them as he did against 'em.

The Reds, who hadn't been able to win two in a row through their first 15 games, beat the San Francisco Giants 4-3 Thursday for their fourth straight victory.

The lean lefty, who beat the Reds seven times out of eight before they got him from the Chicago Cubs last winter fanned two of four batters in a 1-3-inning mop-up Thursday as the Reds swept a two-game series at San Francisco and dropped the second place Giants two games behind Pittsburgh.

The Pirates, who open a three-game series at San Francisco tonight, won 9-7 at Chicago, routing Lou Bourque's debut as Cub manager. Los Angeles beat Milwaukee 4-3 in 10 innings but the St. Louis Cardinals blew a chance to take third place from the Braves by losing 3-1 to Philadelphia.

In the American League, where only two games were scheduled, the Chicago White Sox moved into a virtual first place tie with idle New York by beating Washington 5-3. Cleveland replaced Baltimore in third place by whipping the Orioles 11-6.

The Reds were shut out on one hit for five innings before southpaw Johnny Antonelli tried in his first start of the season, then came from behind and beat reliever Stu Miller with two runs in the eighth.

Henry struck out pinch-hitter Jimmy Davenport with the tying run on second in the Giants' eighth, saving the decision for Bob Purkey (1-1), who earlier gave up a two-run triple by Mays and a homer by Orlando Cepeda.

Bill Virdon's two-out pinch triple gave the Pirates two runs in the ninth against reliever Glen Hobbie (2-3) after they had tied it 7-all with five runs in the seventh. Bob Clemente, who drove in three runs, hit a two-run homer in the rally. Fred Green (2-0) won it in relief for the Pirates.

The Dodgers ended their slump at four on rookie Bob Aspromonte's fourth consecutive hit — a two-out, two-strike single with the bases loaded. Larry Sherry (2-3), never a loser against the Braves, beat them for the third time with four frames of two-hits shutout relief after starter Johnny Podres had given up homers by Mel Roach and Hank Aaron. Don McMahon (1-2) lost it in relief of Lew Burdette.

Rookies Pancho Herrera and Ken Walters hit fourth-inning homers for all three runs as the Phillies beat Vinegar Bend Mizell (1-2) for the first time in six decisions. Jim Owens (2-2), put away his second nine-inning job with a five-hitter. The Cards scored in the fifth on a walk, Leon Wagner's single and a doubleplay.

Margaret Weds

29 years, the archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, asked:

"Margaret Rose, will thou have this man to thy wedded husband, to live together after God's ordinance in the holy estate of matrimony?"

"Will thou obey him?" — the word obey seemed to hang there by itself — "and serve him love, honor and keep him in sickness and in health, and forsaking all others, keep thee only unto him, so long as ye both shall live."

"I will," she answered, just as Tony had answered "I will" before her.

The princess' response brought to a climax 68 days of a steadily building 20th century fairy tale.

For it was on Feb. 26 that Queen Mother Elizabeth announced her younger daughter's engagement to a surprised world.

The romance of the princess and a 30-year-old professional photographer was the best-kept royal secret of the decade.

Joy and the festive spirit of celebrating a happy event prevailed in the carnival-like atmosphere of the festooned streets.

The people turned out by the thousands to watch their princess glide by in a glass coach. They cheered her to the spring skies.

Hawkins Wins for Indians But Is Injured

By ED WILKS Associated Press Sports Writer

It was three years ago Saturday that a line drive ended Herb Score's effectiveness as a pitcher, and almost cost him his sight. Now the Cleveland Indians, denied at least one American League pennant with the loss of Score, await a medical report on a second youngster hit by a line drive while on the mound.

Wynn Hawkins, 24, a right-handed rookie, won his third in a row, 11-6 at Baltimore Thursday night, but had to give way in the seventh inning when a ball hit by Jim Gentile struck his pitching shoulder. The ball hit Hawkins with such force it bounded high into the air to the outfield.

Hawkins didn't appear seriously injured, but was taken to a hospital for precautionary observation.

Only one other game was scheduled in the AL and the Chicago White Sox won it, 5-3 at Washington, for a virtual tie with the idle New York Yankees.

In the National League, Pittsburgh takes a two-game lead into San Francisco for the opener of a three-game series with the second place Giants tonight after beating the Chicago Cubs 9-7.

Cincinnati won its fourth in a row by beating the Giants 4-3. Los Angeles defeated Milwaukee 4-3 in 10 innings and Philadelphia stopped St. Louis 3-1.

Hawkins had the Orioles blanked until the sixth, when Gentile's fourth home run started a two-run inning. The Orioles then put together a four-run seventh when Bob Grim relieved Hawkins who gave up eight hits, walked four and struck out five.

Meany Raps The Health Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—APL-CIO President George Meany said today the administration's old age health care proposal is worse than no plan at all. He predicted it won't get much support in Congress.

Meany made his comment after the APL-CIO Executive Council adopted a resolution saying the plan "has evidently been shaped to meet the political demands of an election year rather than the urgent needs of the aged."

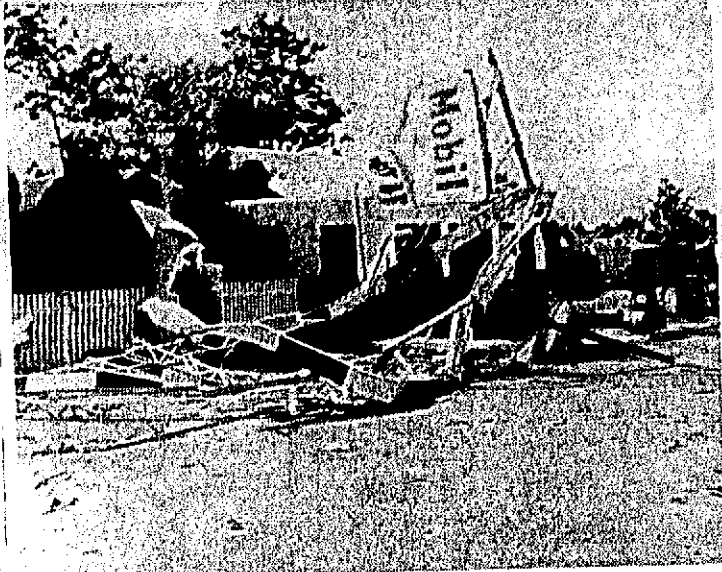

The federation council reiterated support for a prepaid health program for the aged as part of the Social Security system.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said it was encouraging that "the administration, at last, has submitted a program to help our elderly citizens with medical care."

Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming was questioned at length about costs at a closed door session of the House Ways and Means Committee.

Flemming told newsmen after the committee session that he was not surprised at opposition to the administration plan by New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller. Flemming said Rockefeller "always preferred the Social Security approach."

A Democratic governor, Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey, denounced the proposal today as "absolutely stupid."

NEW YORK (AP)—The U.S. Court of Appeals today refused an injunction to halt picketing of the United Arab Republic ship Cleopatra.

Anthony Stern 19, conducting the driving lesson, crawled out and tied the front end to a rail track. A wrecker righted the car.

Kelly Defends Hope's Flag as the First

By BOB HARING
Associated Press Staff Writer

There's a "monster" snake in Storm Creek Lake near Helena. No one has seen it yet this year, apparently, but several folks say it last year.

Mrs. James Mayfield of Helena saw the monster while she and her mother, Mrs. Ann Fletcher, were fishing. It was about 12 feet long, wrapped around a log, she said.

"We fish at Storm Creek Lake often and are accustomed to seeing snakes and turtles," she added, "but we had never seen anything to compare with this."

At first she said, people "laughed at us and said we had just been fishing too much."

But Mrs. A. A. Shaggy and Henry D. Grochman of Marked Tree saw the thing, too. They said it was 9 to 12 feet long, big around as an auto tire and dark gray with black markings. They thought it might be a boa constrictor, a tropical snake which grows up to 12 feet in length.

Dr. James Wise of Marvelle lends support to the boa theory. He reports that in 1957 he accompanied Dr. Henry Farris of Jacksonville, Fla., to Storm Creek to turn a boa loose.

He said Farris had the reptile when both men were medical students.

Clarence Taylor of the Pine Bluff Commercial is one man who's quite interested in the "monster." He's urged Storm Creek fishermen to keep a sharp eye out for the creature this summer. "And to take a camera along because 'a good clear, sharp picture of the monster' would be most welcome."

Blytheville may be a city flag soon. But it won't be the first Arkansas city with an official flag.

That honor, explains Mike Kelly, goes to Hope.

Blytheville's contest for a city flag design was noted here as possibly the first such in the state. But Kelly of Hope, reports that the Hope Kiwanis Club sponsored a flag design contest last year.

He adds: "We have a pretty flag—green field green signifies Hope, a large outline of the map of Arkansas in the left side of the field and from the southwest corner bursting forth are the letters HOPE; in the right hand corner there is a watermelon and in the lower right hand corner a chicken. These represent products of the Hope area."

It was designed by Miss Judy Kay Wright, at that time a high school junior.

Now, what other Arkansas cities have flags?

An honest error gave Mrs. Howard Lawrence of Greenbrier an unintentional lesson in shoplifting.

She was shopping in Conway when she looked down to find a watermelon folded across her arm.

"I knew I had looked at goods at several stores and had purchased one," she said "and I had no idea where the one on my arm came from."

She retraced her steps and returned the goods to the right store.

One thing still puzzles her. "I'd never seen a watermelon folded across my arm."

Edward E. Evans, a Fort Smith truck driver for an ice cream company, "popped" a hijacking attempt last week.

Act Is Simple

VESTAL, N.Y. (AP)—How do you call a young boy away from a ball game and in for meals? The John Pendlebury family uses a referee's whistle.

Evans told police two Negro men in a car pulled alongside his truck and said they wanted some ice cream. The one of them stuck a gun out the car window, he added, and demanded money.

Evans picked up a handy soda pop bottle and hurled it at the car. The men drove off speedily—and Evans kept his ice cream and his money.
